WHIG STATE CONVENTION.

THE WHIGS of the several states, towns and plantations, of the State of Maine, are requested to select Delegates to meet in Council-chambers at PORT LAND on THURSDAY August 7th, at ten o'clock A.M., to nominate a Candidate for Governor, and to adopt such other measures as the welfare of the Country and the interest of the Whig party may demand.

The rates of representation will be as follows—Towns and plantations of 1000 inhabitants or less will be entitled to two delegates, of more than 1000 and less than 2000, to four delegates, of more than 2000 and less than 4000, eight delegates, of more than 4000 and less than 8000, to ten delegates, of more than 10,000 fifteen delegates.

By Order of the State Committee

Bangor June 1845.

THE new arrangement for the arrival and departure of the Western mail commenced, in part, at least, yesterday. The western mail is now due here at two o'clock P.M. and leaves at one o'clock, P.M. This new arrangement of the mail will impose upon us the necessity of issuing our paper in the afternoon and when we shall endeavor to do so as early an hour as practicable after the arrival of the mail.

We should much prefer issuing a morning paper, but as we desire to furnish the latest intelligence at the earliest practical moment, and as the sea-boats and the mail are hereafter to arrive about noon we must change from a morning paper to an afternoon paper, and we hope generally to succeed in getting our paper out in season to depart in the mail on the day of its publication, in order to accommodate our exchanges and subscribers with the steam shipping and other intelligence. It is not ascertained at what time the western mail will actually arrive here and of course we cannot state definitely at what time we shall be able to issue our paper.

We should be glad to have our advertising friends, as far as they can, send in their notices on the day previous to that in which they are to appear, as we wish to have the paper ready for the press as soon as the mail matter can be put in type.

The editor of the Democrat while appealing to reply to one of our paragraphs goes off in a long digression to show that there are some people in the world who have not a very exalted opinion of Gen Jackson. He writes, without the slightest reason however, that we are not disposed to speak favorably of Gen Jackson. The inferences of the Democrat are often as bad as its misrepresentations.

In copying from another paper, giving the usual credit, the account of the death of Gen Jackson, we gave the tribute of that paper to his memory. This was seized upon by the editor of the Democrat as something strange—a perfect wonder! We then reminded him that the tribute was written by another as we stated at the time. He then undertakes to read us a lecture for being singular, even among the whig press, in not being willing to speak favorably of the General! Our neighbor is hard to please.

The rule he lays down for distinguishing between selected and editorial matter he has several times violated in the same paper which contains that rule. If he, with a slow moving weekly paper, cannot observe his own rules he will excuse us from attempting it with a daily issue. If it will be any satisfaction to our neighbor to have us say something about Gen Jackson, we feel disposed to gratify him. The General then possessed virtues and faults. Now that he is dead we would gladly cherish the remembrance of the former and forget the latter.

A Public Convenience.

A writer in the National Intelligencer recommends to the consideration of the Post Office Department the English and French system of conveying money by the Post-office, by which says the writer, "by sum, from shilling to fifty pounds, can be sent through the mail, by depositing with the post master the sum required to be transmitted, and taking a certificate of the deposit, which is redeemable at the post office of town or city to which it is forwarded."

The Washington Constitution notices a newly invented "hemispherical sun dial," which shows apparent and mean time, the length of the days, the rising and setting of the sun, and the cardinal points of the horizon, with the greatest exactness. It is said to be vouches for by some of the first mathematicians in the country. It has been patented by its inventor Mr James P. Gardner of Tennessee.

In our report of the proceedings of the City Council we re-published the order reported yesterday in order that our readers may have a full understanding of the entire action of the council upon the subject of York street. These facts are of much more importance than any matters of opinion which we might offer relative to the matter.

Excellent Letter Paper.

We have received from Mr. Bogbee specimens of excellent letter paper, adjusted to the new law, two and three sheets to the half ounce with an envelope. This is just the article, and we hope to write and receive many letters from our good friends, and under the system of low postage gain by frequent social communications, rather than in saving of money. Let every body write.

The good women of our city who are devoted to the Temperance cause, are engaged in fitting up the City Hall, for the magnificent levee on the evening of the Fourth. They need much more help than they have yet received. We hope they will have ample assistance for the remainder of the time. Go to day reader and help them.

The U.S. steamer Spencer, which left N.Y. a few weeks since, for New Orleans and Texas, has returned, having sprung a leak in the Gulf Stream.

City Affairs.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, June 30, 1845.
Postmen presented and referred.—Of H. D. Hill for city to sell or lease him a lot of land on the hook near the South End of the city.

Of Wm. Abbott et al to have Front street—Referred to the Mayor.

Of R. D. Hill et al to have lines of water established—Referred to street.
